

HOW TO DRAW OOBLE

Q: Why do flamingos stand on one leg?
A: Because they would fall over if they lifted the other one.

1 Draw a semi-circle with an oval on one end for the head. Then draw a triangle for the body.

2 The eyes are about half way in the middle of the head. Add a cone shaped horn and semi-circle feet.

3 Now add the rest of the details in. Mouth, hair and pupils. Ears are like little boomerangs.

4 Finally put a tail on her and add some little arms. then finish off the extra details like the freckles.
